DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 08/31/2009 has been entered.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1, 3, and 4 are allowed.
3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:
4. With regard to the documents cited by Applicant in the IDS documents filed on 06/29/2009 and 10/15/2009, the combination of limitations contained claims as currently amended are not anticipated by nor rendered obvious by the cited documents, alone or in combination with other prior art of record. Of note is that JP04-50594 matches with previously cited US Patent 5,240,220 and thus the subject matter therein has already been considered by the Examiner. With regard to the prior art devices utilizing ball-type coupling elements (e.g. JP 05-191689, cited by applicant on 07/21/2006), the combination of current limitations including a pan rotary section, a tilt rotary section, as well as the coupling section having a fitting structure which is inclined relative to a direction vertical to the camera installation surface, the inclination of the coupling direction being 45 degrees, results in such ball-type coupling mechanisms being neither anticipatory nor rendering obvious the claimed device. With particular attention to the obviousness aspect with relation to the ball-type couplings, such ball-type coupling are designed to themselves allow for pan and tilt movements of the camera (e.g. see Figure 5 of JP 05-191689), thus obviating any need or motivation for a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to include a pan and tilt rotary section on the camera installation device.

5. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
